MANY of the verses in this volume (When I Was King (1906)) appeared originally in the SYDNEY Bulletin, others in the Daily Telegraph, Town and Country Journal, Evening News, World's News, Australian Star, Amateur Gardener, and KALGOORLIE Sun, while eleven are reprinted from The Children of the Bush, published by Messrs. Methuen and Co., London. (from the Introduction)

Read by ashleighjane; Bruce Kachuk; Brian Darby; Newgatenovelist; Greg Giordano; jmoon110; Leonard Wilson; Maria Kasper; Matthew Datcher; SkyAlbatross; Son of the Exiles and Tomas Peter. . Total running time: 00:30:52

*When the crape is round my picture and my mad, wild spirit's free -
And you realise how little you have ever known of me
When the worst is said and printed by the coward and the clown
Then, I trust, a friend might answer - there lies one who lived it down.*
